Voting Guide Prior to elections, the major political parties distribute voting guides to the public. They break down the election options so voters can take the guide with them to the polls and make an educated decision. Complete this guide based on the campaign materials posted by both parties. You will use this when you vote.

Why a Tuesday in November?

Congress chose to have national elections in November because we used to be a nation of farmers. Harvest time was over by late fall, and the weather wasn't bad enough to keep people from traveling (by horse, of course!). Tuesday was selected because most voters had to travel overnight to make it to the polling places. This left Monday and Wednesday for travel and prevented the need to travel on Sunday.

Recycle Those Posters!

The presidential election season of 2008 was the first since 1974 where there was not a Bush or some one in the Clinton administration on the ticket. George H. W. Bush was Reagan's Vice President in 1980 and 1988. Bill Clinton was elected to two terms in 1992 and 1996. In 2000 and 2004 George W. Bush was president. (Al Gore, Clinton's Vice President ran against Bush in 2000. Hillary Clinton, Bill's wife, ran for the Democratic nomination in 2008 and lost to Barack Obama. But she's running again in 2016!)

Runner-Up But Still a Winner?

Early in our nation's history, the candidate that came in second in the presidential election became the vice president! Imagine having to work closely with the candidate that you have been slinging mud at for months! In 1804, the 12th Amendment changed the system so that the vice president was elected by the Electoral College. Now, the presidential nominee for each party has the power to choose his or her running mate.

All In The Family. Guess how these presidents are related. One option will be used twice.
